

Dentsply Sirona Implants hosts Focus on implant dentistry— International Congress on Ankylos 2018

In the wake of the very successful World Summit Tour, Dentsply Sirona Implants is pleased to welcome implant dentistry professionals from all over the world to Focus on implant dentistry—International Congress on Ankylos 2018 at the Estrel Congress Center in Berlin, Germany, on June 29-30, 2018.

Möln dal/Mannheim, October 2017—Continuing in the spirit of inspiration, knowledge and confidence, this congress has a special focus on the Ankylos implant system, with the unique TissueCare concept for long-term hard and soft tissue stability, high performance and long-lasting esthetic results. The congress program also covers current news and innovations, as well as complete digital implant workflows and other solutions from the comprehensive Dentsply Sirona portfolio.

“We are very privileged to welcome the implant dentistry community with a special interest in the Ankylos implant system to Berlin. This trendy and dynamic city is the perfect place to illustrate how we can take implant dentistry further,” says Lars Henrikson, Group Vice President, Dentsply Sirona Implants.

Dentsply Sirona Implants, together with the scientific chairman Dr. Paul Weigl from the University of Frankfurt am Main, Germany, are proud to present a scientific program featuring renowned international speakers and exciting topics. The recognized and dynamic combination of theoretical and practical workshops and an exhibition featuring innovative treatment solutions ensures that there is something for every dental professional that is or wants to start working with implant dentistry.

In addition, scientists and clinicians are invited to present study results and documentation as well as innovative and proven treatment strategies in a digital video and poster competition.

Inspiration with Dentsply Sirona Implants

Dentsply Sirona Implants arranges and hosts a variety of implant dentistry events and congresses globally, all designed to inspire clinicians and researchers to share scientific knowledge and clinical experience and discover the latest developments in implant dentistry

In 2016, they hosted the 30th Anniversary Ankylos Congress in Frankfurt, Germany. During 2017, the scientific congress on implant dentistry, World Summit Tour, travelled to Tokyo, San Diego and Nice, where over 3,600 dental professionals networked, discovered and learned more about the latest innovations, ideas and treatment solutions.

The fourth and final World Summit Tour stop will take place in Shanghai, China, on May 19-20, 2018.
