

Secrets to Endodontic Success

Course Synopsis

The development of new NiTi files and reciprocating systems have made endodontic success more attainable to all dentists. However the basics of Endodontic treatment cannot be ignored or forgotten. This lecture and hands-on will touch on tricks of the trade that have been garnered over 22 years of endodontic practice.

Participants will learn how to use the latest reciprocating system to clean and shape canals quickly and effectively with confidence.

They will also learn how to fill these prepared canals using an all GP carrier based filling material.

Participants will have the opportunity to try these instruments and materials under the careful instruction of an experienced operator in a small group setting
