Your restoration in only one visit

1. After the consultation, the CEREC Primescan or CEREC Omnicam scanner captures the area to be treated.

2. The restoration is then created as a 3D model on the computer.

3. The restoration is then quickly milled from a block directly in the practice.

4. The finished restoration is seated in your mouth just a little while later.

Your advantages with CEREC

+ Time-saving treatment in one visit
  With CEREC you can have high esthetic restorations made by your dentist in a single visit, without follow up appointment.

+ Comfortable intraoral scan without unpleasant impression material
  Say goodbye to biting on impression material for several minutes and having a numb mouth and jaw ache. Your dentist now has a scanner that can capture your full dentition in seconds and then transfer the data to the computer.

+ Your final restoration without temporary prosthesis
  Temporary restorations are exactly what the name suggests: temporary. With CEREC the final restoration is designed, manufactured and placed in your mouth directly without any temporary compromises needed.

+ Long-term stability
  More than just a theory: With CEREC you can rely on quality that has been proven millions of times. Your smile will remain the same for many years!
