

Making the difference together

Implant dentistry from A to X

Women and men, young and old, that have lost their teeth place their trust in you and other dental professionals all over the world to restore their happiness and quality of life. It is your detailed planning, careful surgery, unique restorations and individual follow-ups that let them experience the confidence and joy of smiling again.

We at Dentsply Sirona Implants are committed to helping you in any way we can. That is why we develop, supply and support solutions for every situation. From Ankylos and Astra Tech Implant System to Xive—our offer includes three premium implant systems, complete digital planning, regenerative and restorative solutions as well as educational programs and business development. And always backed by sound science.

It is this combination—your professional skills and our solutions, experience and support—that bring back smiles and happiness to your patients. Together we create long-lasting and excellent results that really make the difference.

We are in this together

Your confidence is our inspiration

We have unlimited passion for implant dentistry. Our in-depth and profound commitment to science, to documentation, to education and to innovation is at the core of what we do. That is why we develop solutions, concepts and processes that help you in your daily work, help you build your practice and your team so that you can achieve the best results for your patients.

Backed by sound science

Nine out of 10 implant systems and manufacturers have no clinical documentation*. For us, this is unthinkable and unacceptable. We run extensive pre-clinical and clinical studies to further support our commitment to quality and documentation. In fact, our comprehensive study program includes more than 2,000 published scientific references. Therefore, you can trust us when we say that our products are researched, developed, documented and clinically proven to provide successful implant therapy for life-long function and esthetics.

Innovation matters

Pioneering implant-abutment connections, surface technology, implant thread design and guided surgery are some of our innovations that help you achieve even better results in implant dentistry. That is why we always ask ourselves: what we can do better? And together with experts from across the globe we constantly push the boundaries of implant dentistry and challenge ourselves to break new ground.

Connect to the future

With digital technology you can provide a whole new scope, modernity, and quality of services. And a digital implant workflow lets you handle more implant cases in less time and treat more complex cases with added confidence. With our extensive expertise and vast portfolio of products, software and services, you can easily find the solution that best fits your practice goals and desired workflow for better, safer and faster dental care.

A partnership that works for you

You get much more than an extensive portfolio of implant solutions from Dentsply Sirona Implants. The partnership also includes support and services designed for your continued professional and practice development, as well as education for all members of your team. This helps you stay competitive and at the forefront of implant dentistry and patient satisfaction.

Every step of the way

Comprehensive solutions for all phases of implant dentistry

We continually strive to improve ease of use and versatility, without compromising science or reliability, in order to increase the application of implant therapy. We make sure that our products and solutions support the demands of simple to challenging cases, as well as alternative protocols for increased patient comfort, reduced treatment time and simplified procedures.

Professional and business development

We offer world-class educational programs for all members of the treatment team, and marketing tools and services to support the continued development of the dental laboratory and implant portion of the practice.

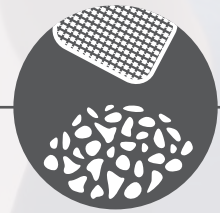

STEPPS™

Digital planning

Our digital treatment planning platform and service for guided surgery ensures accuracy in planning and execution of the implant treatment. It is compatible with all major implant brands, giving you the freedom to use your preferred implant system.

Simplant®

Regenerative solutions

Our portfolio for hard and soft tissue regeneration provides ease of use and safety for predictable, long-term outcomes. The solutions promote bone formation, volume and stability and include bone graft materials, resorbable and non-resorbable membranes, and instruments.

Symbios®

Implant systems

Our well-documented, world-class implant systems have their own unique benefits and deliver exceptional, long-term, esthetic results. Ankylos is the engineered solution for all clinical indications with its predictable, natural esthetics. Astra Tech Implant System offers surgical simplicity, accuracy and restorative ease. Xive is a smart, intuitive and flexible flat-to-flat implant system offering superior primary stability.
