

On-Demand Courses

Due to the current situation, remote learning via live webinars and on-demand courses has become more and more ubiquitous and increasingly popular. Especially on-demand versions of webinars offer great flexibility and freedom to participants because they can enjoy watching from anywhere in the world at any time.

Corporate Clinical Affairs and the Consumables DPG have adapted to these circumstances and are offering to facilitate customer-facing clinical education.

Each on-demand course consists of a video of the lecture, followed by a quiz of 5-7 questions to prove mastery of the topic. Check out all currently available on-demand courses here.

Please note that the responsibility for marketing the courses, as well as the correspondence with the participants belongs to your individual country organization. Dentsply Sirona is a recognized ADA CERP provider of continuing education, and US participants will be emailed a Continuing Education (CE) letter of credit upon successful completion of the quiz. Country organizations are responsible for understanding the requirements for CE credit letters in their country, and in some cases, the Adobe Connect system can be used to automate those letters to customers.

In case of any questions regarding customer-facing education webinars, please contact Jim Gray: jim.gray@dentsplysirona.com

For developing an on-demand e-learning courses, please contact: Dan Jensen: Daniel.jensen@dentsplysirona.com

For more information about the webinars and online courses please visit:

<https://dentsplysirona.sharepoint.com/sites/ClinicalAffairs/SitePages/Webinar-Support.aspx>