

The Last “Song of the Day”: CEO’s Playlist

On April 15th in the middle of the COVID-19 pandemic, CEO Don Casey debuted a new series on his Yammer blog – sharing a song of the day with employees, featuring the soothing sounds of music to spread optimism especially in this time of social distancing. With the end of June and nearly 50 songs on the playlist the last song was added. An era with daily song suggestions shared by Don – either from his own playlists or suggestions from employees – now comes to an end.

What better way to end this song-series than with the song like ‘The Future’s So Bright, I Gotta Wear Shades’ by Timbuk 3. It is time to focus on the bright future of Dentsply Sirona!
